Complex Care Hospital of Idaho Names New CEO, Director of Business Development

MERIDIAN, Idaho (June 8, 2009) – Complex Care Hospital of Idaho today announced the appointments of Michael Fenello as CEO and Steve Schubert as Director of Business Development.

Fenello is a healthcare professional with 20+ years of management experience. He comes to the hospital from Kindred Hospital in Las Vegas, where he was CEO. Prior to that, he held leadership positions with Madonna Rehabilitation Hospital, Novacare, Inc., and HealthSouth Rehabilitation Hospital of Altoona.

Schubert has 18 years of professional experience with emphasis in healthcare. He comes to the hospital from Stryker Corporation, where he was a spine/craniomaxillofacial sales specialist. Previously, he was District Sales Manager with Schering-Plough Pharmaceuticals.

The 60-bed, 62,000-square-foot hospital, which opened in April 2008, has a specialized intensive care unit, in-house lab, pharmacy and diagnostic services with X-ray and CT scanner, as well as a wide range of intensive medical and therapeutic services.

Patients are often referred to Complex Care Hospital of Idaho from the intensive care units of community hospitals. Due to the medical complexity of their conditions, patients often require intensive medical treatments and therapeutic services, which demand specialized capabilities of the facility and the staff.

Located in Meridian at 2131 South Bonito Way, Complex Care Hospital of Idaho is part of the LifeCare family of hospitals. The LifeCare Hospitals network includes 20 specialty acute care hospitals in 10 states.
